PSBU Community CSR Initiatives

PSBU, as a government-funded university, does not provide direct financial assistance to support the establishment of financially or socially sustainable businesses in the community.

However, the university is committed to helping local communities through the allocation of services and resources where possible. Rather than offering cash, PSBU focuses on building skills and offering hands-on support through a variety of educational and entrepreneurial initiatives.

One significant aspect of this commitment is PSBU's collaboration with EBS Global of Sri Lanka and the PSBU Leadership Academy. Together, they co-host events, conferences, lectures, and workshops aimed at providing community members with the skills and knowledge necessary to capitalize on entrepreneurship and start-up opportunities. These initiatives not only equip individuals with the practical tools needed for business creation but also contribute to building a socially sustainable ecosystem in Cambodia.

By offering these educational programs and entrepreneurial workshops, PSBU plays an important role in empowering local communities without directly providing financial aid. These efforts are aligned with the goals of SDG 1: No Poverty, as they help to foster long-term economic resilience and self-sufficiency within the community.
